Re: Joshi Software Consultants

To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is to confirm that Joshi Software Consultants (JSC), namely Dev Joshi, have successfully carried out Application Development work, on behalf of Comet and Kwikasair Express, within the Symbol Hand Held terminal environment.

The application involved the deployment of hand held terminals with courier drivers and dock hands - an audience who have historically had little exposure to this type of technology. JSC designed and developed the handheld software in accordance to the system specifications on time and within budget.

I found JSC to be a valuable contributor to the project with their skill set heavily relied upon by myself, my team and the hand held supplier.

I would have no hesitation in involving him in further projects or recommending him to other prospective employers.

Yours Faithfully,
